

Manager of Housing Policy

The Economic Innovation Group (EIG) is a bipartisan public policy organization dedicated to forging a more dynamic American economy. Headquartered in Washington, DC, EIG produces nationally recognized research and partners with policymakers to develop ideas that empower workers, entrepreneurs, and communities.

About the Role

EIG is seeking a Manager of Housing Policy to lead our work at the intersection of housing, economic dynamism, and place-based policy. This role is central to EIG's mission and will shape a high-impact federal policy agenda focused on expanding housing supply, reimagining incentives, and supporting local vitality.

Reporting directly to the President and CEO and working closely with the Director of Policy and Coalitions, the Manager will drive legislative engagement, develop policy content, and serve as a key resource to Congress, the Administration, and stakeholders at all levels of government.

The ideal candidate brings strong policy fluency, political judgment, and a commitment to cross-partisan impact.

Key Responsibilities

- Lead EIG's housing policy work, with a focus on supply-side incentives and regulatory barriers.
- Shape and advance legislative proposals to expand housing supply and improve market efficiency.
- Cultivate strong relationships with Congressional staff, agency officials, state and local leaders, and national stakeholders.
- Monitor and analyze housing-related developments across the legislative and executive branches to inform strategy.
- Produce high-quality policy materials, including legislative text, memos, testimony, comment letters, and regulatory analysis.
- Identify new opportunities for EIG to add value to the national housing policy conversation.

Qualifications

- At least 5 years of experience in housing policy, with direct exposure to Congress, federal agencies, or national advocacy.
- Exceptional verbal communication skills, including the ability to explain complex policies clearly and persuasively to diverse audiences.
- Strong writing skills and a proven ability to produce polished, publication-ready content with minimal oversight.
- A track record of building bipartisan coalitions and navigating politically diverse environments.
- Highly organized and self-directed, with excellent project management instincts.
- Comfort working in a dynamic, entrepreneurial team environment.

Apply: Please send a cover letter, resume, and writing sample to careers@eig.org with the subject line "Manager of Housing Policy." The salary range for the role is $80,000 to $120,000, commensurate with experience.
